Cornwall

When visiting Cornwall you really are spoilt for choice on places to visit. As well as a breathtaking coastline scattered with picturesque coastal fishing villages, Cornwall has a wealth of other world renowned attractions to fill your days. Situated in the south west of Britain and home to Lands End (Britain's most southerly point) Cornwall has both, northern and southern coastlines, each boasting an array of beautiful beaches and attractions.

For all those aspiring surfers visit the north coast with Newquay and St Ives being the perfect locations. If you fancy something different after drying off, then St Ives has its very own Tate Gallery with a world class collection of art and exhibits.

The south coast, dubbed the Cornish Riviera, is home to picturesque harbour villages such as Fowey and Falmouth. For a little history, drive along to the coastal town of Marazion, home to the magnificent St Michaels Mount. A tidal island topped by a castle 400m off the coast that can be approached on foot, using a man made causeway between mid and low tide.

Slightly in land the world famous Eden Project The Eden Project is a popular visitors attraction that opened in 2001. Inside the two biomes are plants that are collected from many diverse climates and environments, as well many family activities, rainforest inspired walks and restaurants for if you get peckish. A real must see!

Places to visit

Tintagel Castle

Set high on the rugged north Cornwall coast is Tintagel Castle, offering dramatic views out to sea and rocky coves and beaches to explore. Steeped in the legends of King Arthur and his father Uther Pendragon, you can watch a short film about this enduring story and walk the ruins of the castle. Afterwards grab some lunch at the cafe, which serves traditional cream teas and other homemade food.

Address: Castle Road, Tintagel, Cornwall, PL34 0HE

St Michael's Mount

St Michael's Mount is a small tidal island in Mount's Bay, Cornwall, England, United Kingdom. The island is a civil parish and is linked to the town of Marazion by a man-made causeway of granite setts, passable between mid-tide and low water.

Address: St Michael's Mount: Marazion, Cornwall,; TR17 0HS

Eden Project

The Eden Project is a popular visitor attraction in Cornwall, England. Inside the two biomes are plants that are collected from many diverse climates and environments.

Address: Bodelva, Par PL24 2SG
