Norwich, the Norfolk Broads & East Coast

Although its reputation is mostly rural, with people associating the county with the wetlands of the Norfolk Broads, there are the towns of Norwich and Kings Lynn which offer shopping and nightlife opportunities as well as some excellent seaside destinations such as Cromer and Great Yarmouth.

Many coastal areas are protected sites of outstanding natural beauty where a wealth of bird and animal life reside.

There are also some popular attractions such as Banham Zoo that has a great collection of big cats and Great Yarmouth's sea life centre, one of the biggest of its kind in the country.

Or head to Oxburgh Hall, a stately home surrounded by a moat was in the same family for 500 years and is now in the National Trusts care.

If boating is your thing then head to the Broads themselves and spend some time 'messaging about' on the 120 miles of navigable waterways.
