

Somerset really is a county that has it all. Ranked seventh in the UK for size, it is far from being the most highly populated meaning there are vast expanses of open, unspoilt spaces waiting to be explored. It boasts plenty of beautiful buildings - in cities, villages and bustling market towns with a rich heritage of history and legend. Somerset is a County that rewards the adventurous and the inquisitive. If you only know Exmoor you might think all of Somerset is moorland. If you only cross the Somerset Levels you might think the County is flat.

If you don't step outside Bath you will miss some amazing countryside including areas of outstanding Natural Beauty, the Quantock, Blackdown and Mendip Hills. If you visit just the rural heartland, you might not realise there are more than 60km of coast to discover. While we are talking about the coast, Somerset has one of the longest stretches of sandy beach in Europe as well as one of the highest tidal ranges.
